

In English, we have been writing brochures to persuade people to visit Egypt and London. We want you to think about your favourite place to go and write a brochure to persuade us to visit. What is special about this place? Why must we go? Apply all the persuasive skills you have been taught.

Paragraph 1: Introduction

Do you yearn for peace, quiet and tranquillity? Then take a day trip to dazzling Danbury Lakes Country Park. A day at the lakes will leave you feeling relaxed, refreshed and rejuvenated. There is no place in the world which will make you feel as calm as this.

Rhetorical question:

Where/What is your special place?

alliteration:

Hyperbole (exaggeration):

Paragraph 2: First thing to see/activity

Do you like taking a walk within stunning scenery? Stroll slowly through the towering trees. Through every change of the season, this is a mesmerising experience. In spring and summer, the glorious sunshine sprinkles through the emerald leaves like glitter. Autumn bring the rich red and amber tones as the trees begin to transition. Have the most fun of your life crunching crinkled crimson leaves.

First thing to see or do:

Rhetorical question:

alliteration

Hyperbole (exaggeration):

Paragraph 3: Second thing to see/activity

If you look closely, you will encounter a myriad of curious creatures from the tiny beetles to the fluttering butterflies. Be sure to visit in the Spring to see the baby ducklings swimming gracefully alongside their protective parents. Sit silently and listen to the various tweets, chirps and whistles from beautiful birds. You may even see some swoop above your head or perch proudly on a branch. How many creatures will you spot when you visit?

Second thing to see or do:

Alliteration

Hyperbole (exaggeration):

Rhetorical question:

Paragraph 4: Third thing to see/activity

Need a sit down after all that exploring? Take a moment to rest on a bench overlooking the wondrous water. See the sunlight reflecting on the shimmering surface whilst the fish swim swiftly just below, you may even spot a sea snake! You will not feel this tranquillity anywhere else.

Third thing to see or do:

Rhetorical question:

:

Alliteration

Hyperbole (exaggeration):

Paragraph 5: Fourth thing to see/activity

Feeling peckish? Pack a picnic and enjoy this either beside one of the luscious lakes or in the meadow. Once refuelled, continue your adventure wondering aimlessly along the paths. What else will you discover? There is never-ending fun to be had.

Fourth thing to see or do:

Rhetorical question:

:

Alliteration:

Hyberbole (exaggeration):

Paragraph 6: Concluding paragraph

There is no better way to spend your day than at Danbury Country Park. This will soon become a regular trip for you and your family as you will wish to seek that pleasure, peace and perfection again and again. When will you visit?

Why should I visit?

Rhetorical question:

:

Alliteration:

Hyberbole (exaggeration):

Rhetorical question openers

How could you possibly...?

Are you...?

What about...?

Do you really think...?

Why not...?

Do we need to...?

Love...?

Who doesn't...?

Who can deny...?

Hyperbole Phrases

Life-changing
Out-of-this-world
Unforgettable
Beyond your wildest dreams
Absolutely extraordinary
Nothing else compares
The ultimate experience
A once-in-a-lifetime opportunity
Simply unbeatable
In a league of its own

Packed with endless possibilities
Overflowing with excitement
Bursting with brilliance
Explosion of innovation
A powerhouse of performance
Limitless potential
Sky-high quality
Unstoppable results
More powerful than ever

Positive Adjectives

towering bewildering monumental symmetrical wondrous significant immense secretive inspiring impressive famous charming enchanting vibrant dynamic lively historic iconic grand trendy

